

At Synergy Flavors, we take immense pride in the role we play in helping to bring safe and delicious food to tables around the world. As the news around COVID-19 shifts from talk of prevention to mitigation measures, know that we have a laser-like focus on the protection of our employees, customers, communities, and are playing our part to keep the global food supply chain strong and producing.

We operate in some areas where “Stay at Home” or “Shelter in Place” policies are being administered. But, as many of you know, food manufacturing and supplier operations have been deemed as critical infrastructure, and we remain committed to continuing to produce products to support the global food, beverage and nutrition industries.

Like so many of you across industries, Synergy has implemented short- and medium-term measures to protect our employees, and to allow for the continued manufacturing of safe and quality products at each of our global locations. These include remote working, shift rotations, additional site cleaning, and other measures to help ensure teams are kept healthy and safe. We are grateful for the hard-working people at Synergy and beyond who are doing everything it takes to keep the food supply chain strong in this extraordinary time.

As you execute your own strategies to continue to stay operational, we offer our partnership, solidarity and support. Know that we are at the ready to help your teams manage this unprecedented situation now and into the future. As your business partner, please feel free to reach out to your account executive or any member of your local Synergy team with any questions, or if there's anything we can do to help your teams navigate the coming weeks.

We wish you the best as we all manage and live with this unprecedented issue. Be Safe.
